Why do we do what we do? Why do any of us decide to leave our homes and go to foreign lands, living with complete cultural change among people that we may never fully understand or relate to? Below is a text message from a woman that my daughter Nadine and others have been ministering to for quite a long time. Because she sent a text message, there were a few typing errors and grammar changes that I made, but for the most part, this is the message that she sent to my phone. I have kept her identity anonymous for her sake, but I think that you will be able to feel her deep love for us and the effect that the gospel of Jesus has made in her life.

Hi Pastor Freddie

Thanking you so much for your response – appreciated; I am so happy to be part of Christians in Action. Thank you for restoring my faith. Your teaching is awesome and I pray the lord will bless you in all things great.

I thank God for meeting Judith (a friend and member of our fellowship), as if it wasn't for her I wouldn't have known your church, so I thank the Lord for bringing our paths together.

Been thinking about being baptized for a few years now and I believe it's time to give my life to God as He has blessed me in so many ways I can't ignore. Your encouragement has been a major uplifting experience for me and I will always appreciate you and your family for that, especially Nadine (daughter). I love her like a true sister and I have seen how God has blessed her - I adore you all like family. I definitely enjoy home group and I have recently started attending the woman's group on Saturday mornings which I enjoy also and loving my American family (who join via zoom). It feels so great to be a part of our church.

So I will start donating money from the end of this month - got to give the Lord all the praises and glory for never giving up on me.

It's been said come as you are so I am ready as soon as things settle down.

God bless you pastor Freddie

Kind regards

When it comes down to it, all of our efforts are in the hope that many will be saved and come to love the Lord as we do. People like this are what makes our ministry worthwhile, and encourage those of us in ministry to continue doing what we do, which is simply to do our best to follow the direction of the Jesus. Thank you for praying for us and for your continued support over the years.

In His service,
